TO FILL QUESTIONNAIRES

Government Desires All Nurses and Women Who Have Taken Red Cross Courses to Register

Have you? Done all in your power to make the survey of nurses now being carried on by the government through the Red Cross a success? Or have you said to yourself—or worse, to others—"This doesn't concern me, I am not a nurse." No, you may not be a nurse but your not being one does not relieve you of one whit of the responsibility of your share in the survey. And you have got a share which concerns you amid your community very vitally.

The Government has asked that all nurses, graduate under-graduate, practical, nurses-in-training and all those women who have taken Red Cross courses shall be named in the survey, so that the crying need for nurses may be met with all possible speed.

There are questionnaires to be filled out by each nurse, which can be obtained from Mrs. George T. Klipstein, 607 Prince street, chairman of the nursing committee of the local chapter of the Red Cross or from Miss M. B. Fenton at the U. S. Public Health office in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

During the recent influenza epidemic the work done by women who had taken the Red Cross courses proved the value of these courses. Practical nurses also gave service which was much needed. All those women are urged to fill in these questionnaires.

Private Wolfford was a member of the Alexandria Light Infantry and went with that command to Anniston, Ala., where he received his training before going overseas.

IN MEMORIAM

BUTCHER, In sad but loving remembrance of our dear daughter, Madeline (Laycock) Butcher, who departed this life 4 weeks ago, October 24, 1913.

From this world of grief and trouble
To the land of peace and rest
God has taken you, dear daughter,
Where you will find eternal rest.

Rest on dear daughter, thy labor's o'er,
Thy willing hands will toil no more;
A faithful daughter, both true and kind,
A truer daughter you could not find.

Tea we miss you, Oh, how we miss you
When we see your vacant chair.
But how sad the room without you,
For there is no daughter there.

Never for a moment forgotten,
Never shall your memory fade.
Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger
Around the grave where you are laid.

By her heartbroken parents,
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Laycock.

LAYCOCK.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear son, J. Edward, who departed this life one month ago, October 23, 1918.

Home is sad; O God how dreary,
Lonesome, lonesome, every spot;
Listening for his voice, till weary—
Weary, for we hear it not.

Whene'er we speak your loving name,
Our eyes with tears are wet;
Oh, how we loved you Edward,
And love cannot forget.

Days of love forever ended,
Passed and vanished from our side,
And that loved form which we treasured,
Is no longer at our side.

And the voice we loved to follow,
Nevermore shall we have to guide.

By his heartbroken parents.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY

John Griffin, Colored, Charged With Murder of Roy Johnson, Colored

A coroner's jury, summoned by Dr. T. M. Jones, which met last night at police headquarters gave a verdict to the effect that Roy Johnson, colored, came to his death Thursday night November 21 from a gunshot wound inflicted by John Griffin, colored, at house 409 South Alfred street.

Immediately after the verdict was given Griffin, who was captured yesterday morning near Mount Vernon, Fairfax county, by Sergt. Scott and Policeman Kerns, was formally arraigned before Justice L. H. Thompson and held for the action of the grand jury.

While the coroner's jury was deliberating Griffin told the police that his principal reason for shooting Johnson was that he had been told that Johnson had threatened to kill him. He also told the police that on last Monday while working with Johnson in Fairfax county the deceased sold him a pint of water for a pint of whisky charging him $2 for the water. The accused denied that he held a grudge against Johnson because Johnson was instrumental in securing the arrest of his brother by the military police several weeks ago.

Griffin is twenty years old and his home is in Monroe, N. C., and Johnson's home was in Brookfield, Va. Both men were employed in railroad construction work near Mount Vernon.

RICHMOND THEATRE

Of the personal experiences in the World War that have been published in the last two or three years, those of Harold Peat, known as "Private Peat," have engaged public attention almost exclusively. Mr. Peat's two years in the trenches, of which he speaks in his famous lecture, "Two Years in Hell and Back With a Smile" were experiences allotted to few and they have been visualized stirringly by Paramount in the photoplay "Private Peat," in which Mr. Peat is the star and which will be displayed at the Richmond theatre tonight.

From the hour when the chief actor in the photoplay, who is a clerk in country store, has his dream of a Hun invasion of America with all its attending horrors, until he enlists and sees service in France, scenes of excitement follow each other in quick succession.

NOTICE

The Alexandria Amusement Company will give $25 to the person suggesting the most attractive name for the new theatre now rapidly nearing completion on the site of the old Surprise Theatre. Names may be left at the box office of the Richmond Theatre or at the office of the Alexandria Amusement Company, 812 King street.

THERE ARE OTHERS

Most gas consumers in Alexandria have ceased to fret over the poor quality and pressure. During the early night hours the flames are sickly, far from satisfactory, and the paterfamilas, after toiling all day in the expectancy of passing a quiet evening scanning newspapers or favorite books soon finds he is injuring his eyes in attempts to read even large print. Cooking by gas has ong been an uncertain proposition in Alexandria, the puny flames arising from gas stoves serving rather to spoil dishes than to prepare them for the table. Some of our neighbors are in the same plight, as the following communication from a resident of Baltimore to a paper of that city shows:

"As I see it, a very serious situation confronts us with reference to the gas question. Many of us have only ranges and instantaneous water heaters, and many have, at the urgent solicitation of the Gas Company, taken out furnaces and put in the Gas Company's gas heating plants, and now there is something awry with the gas either as to quality or pressure. For the last two Sundays dinner at my house was delayed because there was not enough gas.

If that is the case during this mild weather, what may we expect later on? Cannot something be done toward compelling the Gas Company to furnish the proper quality or pressure? If not, we who have instantaneous heaters and only gas ranges ought to change to coal ranges or provide an oil cooking stove for emergency, and change over the instantaenous heaters to the old water back, or put in a coal stove for the water heating.

For, what will the situation be if we await midwinter to find that we cannot cook, cannot get hot water, or cannot get heat where the gas heating plan has been adopted, and with freezing conditions prevailing causing a great damage to many houses and garages?"

RIGHTING THE WRONG

When Germany made peace with France following the overwhelming defeat of the French armies at Sedan in 1871, the conquerors not only appropriated the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine, but extracted a tribute of $1,000,000,000 from the prostrate French people. The German government not only forced this colossal indemnity from its victim, but it garrisioned France until the last penny was paid.

As the Richmond Times-Dispatch says, no civilized nation ever before had levied so outrageous a tax upon a vanquished foe, and it was laid with the fixed determination on the part of the Germans to impoverish the French nation for a generation, reducing it to utter impotency. Regardless of the fact that France was crushed and bleeding; regardless of the fact that an implacable enemy held a baynet at its breast and held her capital as a hostage, the brave people of the republic raillied from the blow and made full payment of every dollar which had been demanded.

For more than 40 years this crime has gone unavenged, but the day of retribution is now at hand. Germany has been beaten. It is suing for peace and pleading for its enemies for an opportunity to live. Before that peace is made, France and the powers associated with it should demand that every franc which Germany took from the French people be repaid and repaid with interest.

It is not enough that Alsace-Lorraine shall be returned to the mother nation. That this will be consummated as a result of this war goes without saying. In fact, Germany already is committed to the restoration of the provinces which it seized in 1871. But it must make restitution of the money which it carried away, as well as surrender the lands which it took. Money is not mentioned by the President in his declaration that the wrongs against France must be righted, but it is not too late to mention it, and the world will not be satsified until full settlement has been made in that direction.

BELGIUM REDIVIVANT

King Albert and the royal family are again in Brussels and receiving the congratulations of the allies, those who came to her rescue while the little kingdom was being trodden down by the ruthless Huns and her people massacred, mutilated and robbed. President Wilson was one of the first to send greetings. His message follows:

"King Albert of Belgium,
"Brussels.

"At the moment that you reenter Brussels at the head of your victorious army, may I not express the great joy that it gives me and to the American people to hail your return to your capital, marking your final triumph in this war which has cost your nation so much suffering, but from which it will arise in new strength to a higher destiny.

(Signed) "WOODROW WILSON."

A contributor to a Baltimore paper sends the following, which is appro- "His Majesty.

Once more the poppies red and white
Will bloom in Flanders overnight;
Once more the trees will come in leaf
Above the withered graves of grief;
Once more the bluebells swing in tune
Into the sunbeam's dulcet rune—
And oh once more in Belgium land
The children of white dreams shall sing!

The king has come to his own,
The queen has risen to her throne;
The old priests come that in all stress
Still stood to comfort and to bless
The stricken and the weary there—
And now the fields that are so bare
And are so black and are so red
Will burst in blossoms for the dead!

Oh, deep will they who died rejoice
That we were here to mark their voice,
And heed their cry and send our own
To battle for them in that zone
Of bitter conflict, that again
The poppies might come back to men,
The trees put forth when spring is ripe
And robins come to preen and pipe!

And how the bells will ring once more
In Belgium, that were sick of war!
But most of all that sight, that sight
Of children dancing in the light,
Gay clad and saved and given a chance
Once more in fields of sun to dance.
As with them, too, in sun and rain
Shall dance the shadows of the slain!

WAR ON JEWS

Further massacres of Jews in Poland and Galicia reported to the Zionist Organization of America. A continuous range of pogroms throughout Poland and Galicia is described. The Polish legionaires have been shooting Jews down in the streets of Warsaw.

The pogrom wave is sweeping all over Poland. In Siedlez the students and intellctuals are partaking in the pogroms. At Chirzanov, on the night of the seventh, all the Jewish shops were looted and the whole Hebrew population had to flee the city. Pogroms have occurred in twenty Galician towns.

Representatives of the merchants and industrial workers of Minsk ask the Zionists of this country to endeavor to secure action by America, which will prevent pogroms which, it is believed, are about to occur throughout that part of Russia occupied by Germany.

Jew baiting has been a favorite pastime of certain nations during most of the Christian era. One of the happy results of the late war was the wresting of Palestine from the Turks. Israelites, who have been footballs of vicious men for centuries, are still victims, and this race is now crying to America for relief from their cruel oppression, and the nation which has secured democracy for the world is now called upon to play a part similar to that of Cyrus who aided materially in restoring the race to their own land after seventy years' capivity. Our country may aid materially in restoring the King of Israel in these latter days.

THE PEERAGE OF PATRIOTISM

As an exchange says, the most touching of the things which come before our vision now are the photographs that the newspapers are printing every day of the men who will never return to their homes. These obituary pictures in their simple way tell a story of patriotism, of sacrifice, of sorrow that at once wrings our heart and thrills our souls. Behind each of them we see a house of mourning, wounds that time cannot entirely heal; but behind each of them we see a house in which for the light that has gone out an undying radiance of the spirit has been kindled.

In truth, a picture gallery such as Europe cannot equal; such as all the great masters could not rival. When Virginia's memorial to her heroes is built, this picture gallery should be one of its features.

WOUNDED ABANDONED

Rescued by Plucky French Peasant Girl Who Walked Thirty Miles

Verdun, Nov. 23.—Forty wounded American prisoners abandoned by the Germans at a hospital after the armistice was signed, were rescued through the heroism of a French peasant girl who walked fifty kilometers (nearly thirty miles) from Longwy to Verdun to notify American medical officers of the plight of the inhabitants in a village near the hospital. Exploring the hospital building the girl was astonished to find the Americans on their cots, unable to summon aid. They were badly in need of food water and medical attention. The wires were cut. Learning that there were Americans at Verdun, the girl started on her lonely hike through the war torn country meeting only liberated prisoners on the way. She arrived at the base hospital here completely exhausted.

She told Captain Donovan of Brooklyn, brother of Lieutenant-Colonel William J. Donovan, of the One-hundred sixty fifth infantry, her story. The captain, who is attached to the medical service, rushed ambulances to the scene and brought the wounded Americans to Verdun. One aviator was found to be suffering from a compound fracture of the skull while the others were serious surgical cases. The American doctors were amazed at the neglect of the German surgeons who deserted such serious cases. Only first aid treatment had been given the wounded, paper bandages being used instead of gauze and cotton.

The American surgeons impressed with the pluck of the girl recommended her for a decoration. She was glad to do "this little service" as the Germans had executed two of her brothers. The soldiers call her Joan of Arc.

MILLIONS OF DRINKS

Available For Consumption In Maryland Are 8,000,000 Gallons Whisky

There are 8,000,000 gallons of whisky in the bonded warehouses of Maryland to supply the demand until July 1, 1919, when the "bone-dry" act which has been signed by President Wilson, will go into effect.

After estimating the population of Maryland, with particular attention to the percentage furnished by the city of Baltimore, it will be estimated that in a gallon of whisky there are, roughly speaking, just about 20 drinks. Therefore, by simple multiplication, it is readily seen that there are at present available for consumption before next July 1 no less than 160,000,000 individual drinks of whisky.

The foregoing figures were furnished by former State Senator Lewis M. Milbourne, chief deputy collector of internal revenue, at his office in the Custom House in Baltimore.

When the announcement was made that President Wilson had signed the measure making the entire United States bone dry after July 1, 19199, there was a general report that all of the saloons of the city and State would endeavor to dispose of their stocks of liquor at the earliest possible moment, but such will most probably not be the case. The price of distilled liquor will increase greatly, no doubt, for the brief period which is still allowed the saloon-keepers, and a veritable harvest thus will be reaped.

Colonel Charles R. Keiley, executive, secretary of the state council of defense, has closed a contract with the United States government for between 20,000 and 25,000 cords of pine wood at Seven Pines, which is to be brought to Richmond, sawed into one-foot lengths nad sold and delivered to customers at $9 a cord. Should any customer desire to haul his own wood, the price at the yards will be $7.50 a cord. Delivered, the price has been fixed at $9 a cord. The price which Richmond dealers have been authorized to sell wood by the local fuel administrator remains at $14 a cord.

Willie Russell, nineteen year old negro, is in in jail at Lynchburg, held as a suspect in connection with the criminal assault and murder of Miss Rosa Farmer Tuesday night. The only suspicion against the negro is that he was hunting Tuesday afternoon, and that one of his dogs was seen about the scene of the crime about the time Mias Farmer left her home. County authorities are also at work on a clue, which is said to lead to a white man, whose identity is not given out yet. The negro prisoner at first denied he had been hunting, but later admitted that he had quit work early to go hunting; but he denies any knowledge of the crime.

Miss Mary Custis Lee, sole surviving child of Gen. Robert E. Lee, died early yesterday morning, after a brief illness at Virginia Hot Springs. The body is expected to be placed beside that of her father in the vault of the Lee mausoleum at Washington and Lee University at Lexington. In recent years Miss Lee has spent a great part of her time in Washington and Richmond. She was honorary president of Lee Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, and of the board of managers of the Home for the Needy Confederate Women. Since the death of her brother, Capt. Robert E. Lee, of Romancoke, on October 19, 1914, Miss Lee has been the sole surviving child of the great Confederate chieftain.

SECRETARY M'ADOO RESIGNS.

Blames "Inadequate Compensation" And Says He Desires a Rest After Six Years in Office

William G. McAdoo has resigned office as Secretary of the Treasury and Director-General of Railroads, to leave the Treasury on the appointment of a successor and the Railroad Administration on January 1 next. It was announced last night that he had asked President Wilson to relieve him now that the war is over, so that he might return to private busines after six years in office.

President Wilson has acceded to Mr. McAdoo's request and accepted his resignation.

Retirement was made necessary, Mr. McAdoo's request and accepted his resignation.

Retirement was made necessary, Mr. McAdoo said, because of "inadequate compensation," allowed Cabinet officers.

The Secretary also explained that he is seriously in need of rest, although there is no actual impairment of his health.

TIME IS THE TEST.

The Testimony of Alexandria People Stands the Test.

The test of time is what tells the tale. The public soon finds out when misrepresentations are made, and merit alone will stand the test of time.

Alexandria people appreciate merit, and many months ago local citizens publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills; they do so still. Would a citizen make the statement which follows unless convinced that the article was just as represented? Below is testimony such as the sufferer from Kidney ills is looking for.

Mrs. G. W. Davis, 107 Prince St., Alexandria, says: "Doctors treated me for along while and pronounced my case of kidney trouble a severe one. Often I felt so listless and nervous, I almost gave up hope. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me relief after everything failed. Doan's strengthened my kidneys and removed the trouble."

THREE YEARS LATER Mrs. Davis added: "I still take Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally when my kidneys don't act as they should. I always get quick relief."

Price 60c., at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Davis had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Twenty-seven German mine-sweeping vessels were interned in Dutch ports yesterday.

Paris expects President Wilson to arrive there from England December 12. Plans are under way to give him a royal welcome.

Bavaria will proclaim herself a republic if the extremist factions in Germany continue their campaign to gain complete authority, according to an official dispatch received in Washington yesterday from Zurich.

The Japanese Ambassador, the War Department announced last night, has informed the Secretary of State that His Imperial Majesty, the Emperor of Japan, has conferred decorations upon certain officers of the American army.

An explosion of munition trains in Belgium Thursday caused causalties estimated to be between 1,500 and 2,000. One hundred and fifty dead already have been counted. Most of the victims were German soldiers who had been plundering the trains. A few Dutch soldiers also were killed.

A $2,000,000 fire started at Canton, near Baltimore yesterday, when inflammable material burst into flames in the hold of the tanker Standard, of the Standard Oil Company. Two big piers, several export buildings and the vessel were destroyed, together with a large quantity of gasoline. There were many heavy explosions, but no loss of life is believed to have resulted.

Grave concern is expressed at the White House over cabled reports of the illness of Col. Edward M. House in Paris. It is a matter of common knowledge that President Wilson in considering the attitude of the United States in the coming peace conference and in writing the addresses which he will deliver in Europe, has relied greatly upon the counsel of Col. House, who is destined to play an important part in the expression of American ideals and hopes at the coming world congress. Officials yesterday said that the reported attack of influenza might be more serious than appears. Col. House is not a robust man. Some years ago he suffered a sunstroke and has never fully recovered from the effects.

NEW REVENUE BILL

Senate Recommends Elimination of Duties on All Luxuries.

Sweeping reductions in the taxes which were to have been imposed by the new revenue bill were made by the Senate Finance Committee yesterday, following the recommendation of the Treasury Department that the total yield of the bill should be cut to $6,000,000,000.

The rates on cigars and cigarettes were cut about one-third. The tax on soft drinks was cut in half. All of the so-called taxes on luxuries, including clothing above a certain fixed value, and the proposed tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline were stricken from the bill.

There will be no tax on photographs and the tax on candy is cut from 10 per cent to 5 per cent, while on chewing gum the tax will be only 3 per cent. The tax on jewelry will be 5 per cent instead of 10 per cent.

The reductions made will amount to more than $200,000,000 in the volume of revenue from the bill. Still further reductions are to be made in other tax schedules until the measure is brought down to the maximum agreed upon.

A Vivid Story of the Trenches

Two Years in Hell and Back with a Smile

It is impossible to describe this tremendous story of this struggle against the world for

THE WAR IS OVER

Rejected for the army time and again, yet imbued with the true American spirit, this boy at last had his most precious wish granted, and went into the trenches, to set his soul at rest. He fought hard, he was wounded, but he has come back and has given to the world his wonderful experience in pictures.

M'ADOO'S SUCCESSOR

Carter Glass Spoken of For His Position as Secretary of The Treasury

Washington, Nov. 23.—Speculation as to the man who will be named to succeed William Gibbs McAdoo secretary of the treasury, was general last night in hotel lobbies and the foyers of the clubs. The official circles, however, could not venture the name of any one man as the apparent selection of the president. The belief was general that in the past week, or since the president has received the resignation of Mr. McAdoo, plans have been made for the naming of a man to succeed to the position.

Among the names of men mentioned as possibilities was that of Jas. B. Forgan, chairman of the board of directors of the First National Bank, of Chicago. Mr. Forgan is sixty years of age and is not in robust health, which might militate against his seection for the post. Many students of the political situation in Washington pointed out that Bernard M. Baruch occupies today a position which fits him in the peculiar manner for the work of readjustment financing in which the secretary of the treasury must have a great part during the coming five years.

Another possibility, in the minds of many is Dr. Harry A. Garfield, fuel administrator.

Carter Glass, chairman of the house committee on banking and finance was also being spoken of last night.

Another name generally discussed is that of John Skelton Williams, comptroller of currency, who has been closely associated with Mr. McAdoo in the solution of most of the greater problems which have confronted the department and the railroad administration in the past year.

Saunders & Son

THE KAISER

Wendell Phillips Stafford contributes the following to the Manufacturers Record:

If he had fallen in fight—
He and each stalwart son—
We might have said, "Good night,
And an eternal rest
Courage redeems the Hun."
At any rate his neck had not been noosed.
But now—
The Hohenzollern house
We thought an eagle-nest
Turns out a chicken-roost!

Shall he go free?
He shut your son
Into a stinking pen
And told him, "Starve and rot!"
Shall he
Go free?
He bade his soldiers tear
The tongue out of the throat
Lest it should dare
To tell truth of the Hun—
And his own tongue wags on!
This is the hand that loaded every gun—
And it is lifted still,
Unshackled, in God's sun!

If he had shed
The blood of only one,
Law would have risen and said,
"Your blood must pay!"
Now by his hand
Millions are lying dead.
And Law has naught to say!
Is it so, then,
Or are we really men?
Shall he go free?
He?

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hixon Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn., —"About 10 years ago I was," says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place, "I sufferd with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side.

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try som more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommended it as a splendid female tonic."

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.
